June Snow

June Snow presents a tranquil garden setting that will complement any modern, contemporary or traditional new home design.

This design includes a unique, central garden bed design with a gorgeous flowering tree as its centrepiece. Beneath the tree, boxwood spheres along with layers of medium shrubs and groundcovers add substance to the underplanting.

Designed to ensure the hero of your garden is the variety of plants – the June Snow garden sits elegantly on a square lawn edged by shrubbery and enhanced by natural path materials.

Pyrus

The Pyrus garden by Fleming's is lush and rich in appeal. Breaking the stereotype for small urban gardens Pyrus frees itself of formal lines and symmetry by encouraging a flowing and natural environment.

Two ornamental garden trees look over a circular lawn ensconced by a pallet of purple foliaged shrubs.

To create contrast, delicate white lilies and silver foliage plants surround bluestone pavers that vary in shape.

Lavandula

Beautifully crafted to ensure the garden flourishes no matter the season, there are so many elements in the Lavandula garden design to fall in love with.

A crepe myrtle tree is the ideal feature tree – its romantic form and seasonal appeal with stunning summer flowers, gorgeous autumn tones balanced with striking smooth exfoliating bark in the winter will set your heart aflutter.

In the springtime, scented plants will make the heart sing and are sure to bring birds and bees aplenty. The diamond lawn centrepiece surrounded by signature white pebbles will dress any home facade to its greatest potential.

Betula

Simple elegance of lines and an innate symmetry are the shining component of the Betula garden design by Fleming's.

This stylish, contemporary design has been carefully executed to balance a striking home facade and features a series of three potted Azaleas flanked by two stately yet graceful birch trees.

The scene is perfectly ensconced in green with a linear lawn framed by an informal hedge of an aromatic evergreen shrub highlighted by seasonal flowers.

Abelia

A perfected symmetry is the basis of the Abelia garden with central bluestone pavers leading directly through a mirrored garden.

On either side, two feature trees with seasonal flowers will balance a lush lawn enclosed by layered hedging that adds a sense of informal structure to the design.

A classic design, the Abelia garden is perfect for those who appreciate low maintenance and have chosen a home with a central entrance.

Wild Iris

The Wild Iris garden by Fleming's is a stately yet contemporary addition to any home. Wild Iris will suit almost any home facade but will be particularly appealing to those that appreciate a modern edge.

Horizontal garden beds feature small, but vibrant garden shrubs. Surrounding the feature tree – a beautiful Crab Apple that will offer seasonal interest and beauty when flowering.

Offset from centre, white granite pavers will be flanked by purple leaf shrubs for added contrast. With the added elegance of time-honoured plants that can stand the test of time, the Wild Iris is the perfect contemporary garden design.
